DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-4, 6, 8, 15-18, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Owens et al., US Patent Des.324,170, in view of Morse et al., US Patent 3,050,770. As shown in the below figure, Owens discloses essentially all of the claim limitations. As best understood, the claimed dimensions of thickness of the ring portion are shown. Owens does not explicitly disclose resilient material, or a continuous solid center portion, as claimed. Such limitations are highly known and very old to one skilled in the art. Morse shows these modifications for the purpose of providing a damping door stop member. It would have been obvious at the time the device was made for one skilled in the art to have included such a modification in the device of Owens, as generally taught by Morse, for the purpose of providing a damping door stop function, as known in the art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Owens in view of Morse. The combination discloses the claimed invention except for explicit teaching of the claimed material of construction. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made the device of such a material, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416. See also Ballas Liquidating Co. v. Allied industries of Kansas, Inc. (DC Kans) 205 USPQ 331. Such a modification is not critical to the design and would have produced no unexpected results.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed with respect to claims 1-8 and 15-20 have been considered but they are moot in view of new grounds for rejection.
